

A close-up, high-contrast photograph of a lion's face, focusing on its eye and the texture of its fur. The image is dark and moody, with the lion's eye being a bright, golden-brown color that stands out against the darker fur.

The New Standard: A First Look at Leon's New Products and Finishes

Color, Material, and Finish Updates

Awakening Creativity

At Leon, our core currency is creativity. We explore the intersection of art and audio, and design and technology, to go beyond the ordinary. We've built a culture rooted in collaboration and curiosity.

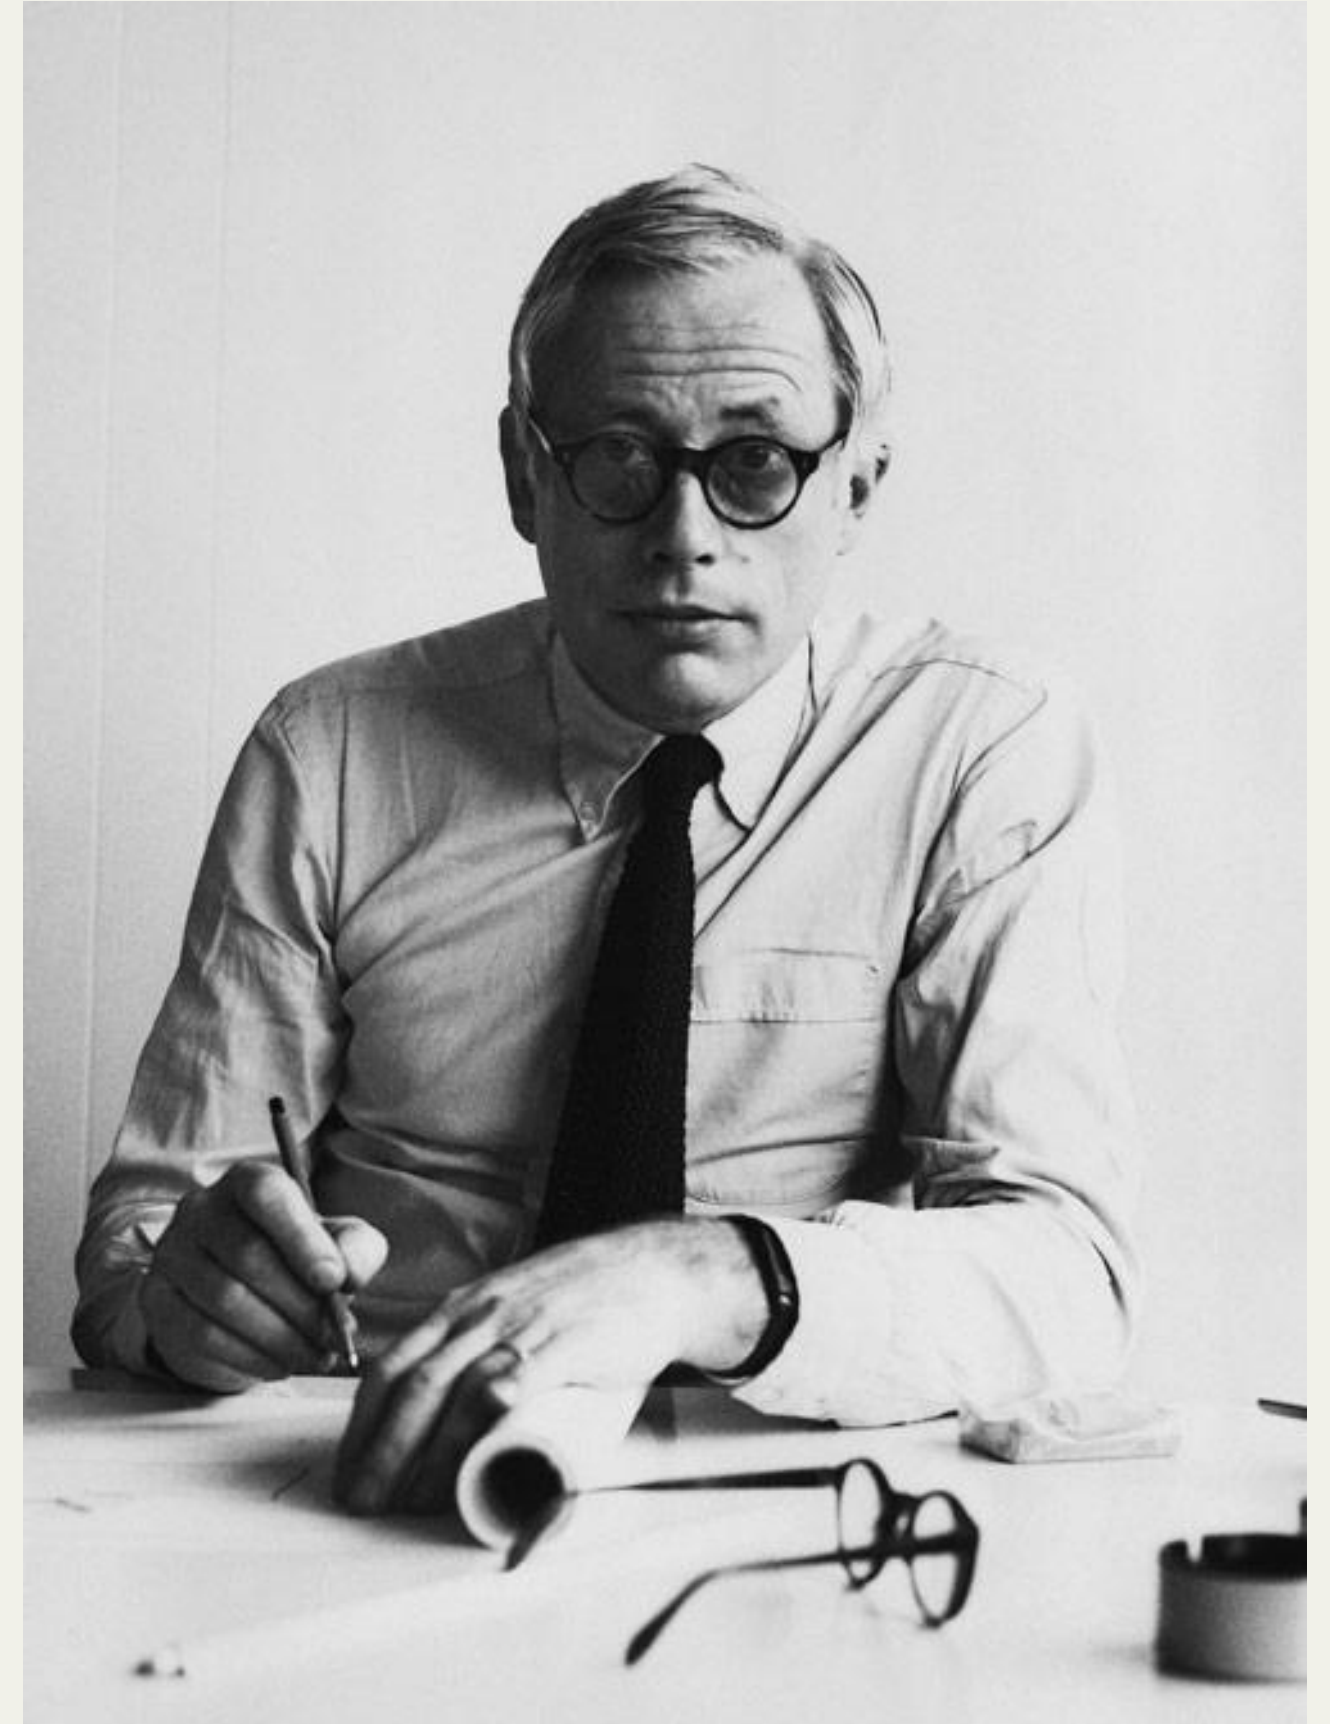

Inspired by Generations of Timeless Design

We draw inspiration from the timeless designs of the past, taking the same thoughtful approach to the shapes, colors, and materials we use today.

“Good design is as little design as possible.
Less, but better—because it concentrates on the essential aspects, the products are not burdened with non-essentials. Back to purity, back to simplicity.”

—Dieter Rams

A Heritage of American Craftsmanship

Timeless and built to last, an investment in Leon is an investment in American craftsmanship that will remain in your collection for years to come.

The Landscape has Changed

Displays are getting bigger, and installs more complex.
Rooms are highly designed with more stakeholders in the process.
Finishes are not an afterthought, but leading the conversation.

It must be beautiful. It must perform.

Introducing The New Standard

We believe that the smallest details make the greatest impact. That's why we continue to invest in exploring new materials and refining our craft—to make sure that no detail gets overlooked, and refusing to stop at just a job well done.

Our all-new range of materials provides you with more creative freedom than ever before, offering a thoughtfully curated palette of finishes.

Every option was selected for its superior performance, and its ability to create beauty and harmony between design and technology.

Leave Nothing Unfinished.
